README

In Problem Three, we are doing matrix multiplication for two matrices having random size between [3,10^R].

Then we are comparing the time comparison between in case of int and float using gnuplot.

This is further compared to O(n^3).